Aria

Air. Water. Amazing.

Imagine submersing yourself into the perfect mixture of three of our most basic needs. Air, water, and luxury. Trajet's Aria tubs are the next generation of relaxation and invigoration. Millions of bubbles of heated air surround you from 16 perfectly placed air jets for a truly magnificent hydro-air massage. Aria's electronic control allows you to choose the speed and amount of pulsating bubbles to deliver precisely the level of relaxation or invigoration you desire. Trajet's innovative engineering, expert craftsmanship and classic style are reflected in your choice of five models of this truly unique compliment to your most primitive yet uniquely developed self-indulgent instincts.

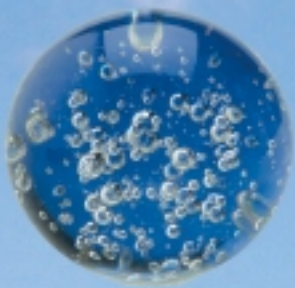

Hygiene is always a priority, and the Aria air massage system reflects this concern. It is entirely suitable for your home, commercial application or institutional use. Each jet has a built-in valve to prevent backflow in the air passage. The air system remains clean since no contaminated water can enter, and stagnate there. For additional protection, twenty minutes after use, the system initiates a one-minute drying cycle that dries out the jet valves, thereby ensuring a longer life and perfect hygiene.

As light as air. As smooth as water. That's the blend of relaxation and invigoration found in every Aria tub from Trajet. You're invited to discover the style, innovation and craftsmanship that makes Trajet the choice of those who understand the value of self-indulgence.

All Aria tubs come with the following standard features:

- Acrylic Finish
- Matching Jet Finish
- Constantemp® Foam Insulation
- Easy-Touch Electronic Controls Allow Fully Adjustable Airflow, and Pulsation

They call it "Balneotherapy." You can just call it "Abhh."

The benefits of therapeutic bathing have been known for centuries. Recognized for the ability to relieve pain and improve the spirit, water therapy, also known as Balneotherapy, is highly regarded throughout Europe and Asia. Until now, this incredible experience has been reserved for a select few and available only at luxury spas and resorts. Trajet's Aria series brings this luxurious experience to you for enjoyment and relaxation whenever you feel the need to make that personal, extraordinary escape in the privacy of your home.
